MojoPac Freedom has just been announced which promises to revolutionize mobile computing. It allows you to take your applications — all of them, including MS Office products — and use another computer and access your programs from your USB device.

This is a great step forward if it all works as advertised. Just have a look at this video to see how it works.

Here's the good thing: MojoPac Freedom is totally free of charge! There's a DeLuxe version as well with added security and support but this will get you going.

There's one proviso: It currently only works on Windows XP or 2003 machines. But Vista support is coming and that's the one we'll use and review for you.
